THE CANADIAN JUBILEE
BEACON CHAIN

The coast-to-coast chain of beautiful by which Canadian Boy Scouts celebrated the King's Silver Jubilee on the evening of May 6th, proved the greatest event of its kind in the Dominion's history. Fires stretched from Sydney on the Atlantic, to Prince Rupert on the Pacific, and burned from Signal Mountain, 7,400 feet up, in Jasper National Park. The great Mid-Canada bonfire at Winnipeg was lighted by Lord Baden-Powell himself, in the presence of a crowd of many thousand spectators; and at Edmonton, in the presence of a similar crowd, a huge beacon was lighted by Lieut.-Gov. Walsh. The Canadian Scout chain carried across North America the great Scout chain in England, where some 2,000 beacons burned between John o' Groats and the Guernsey Islands.

Social Credit is to be debated by Mike Presbytora and Yon Yonson.

MAY QUEEN ELECTED AT BELLEVUE

The balloting for the Bellevue May Queen closed last evening, Wednesday, at 8 p.m., and resulted in the election of Esther Chiaravano as Queen of the May. Having a good lead over her nearest rival, Esther piled up a large vote of 2770. Eileen Boyle stood second and Flora Boutry third.

Arrangements are now completed for a real big' day at Bellevue, commencing with the junior sports at 10:30. This includes all boys and girls under 12 years. The big parade will leave the school grounds at 1:15, arriving at the sports grounds at 1:30. The crowning ceremony will be conducted by Mrs. Borden, of Coleman, after which the platform attractions, junior choir singing, Maypole dance and many other varieties of entertainment will continue for an hour.

The senior sports will follow: races, horseshoe pitching, tug-o'-war, high jump and softball.

A grand concert will be held at 8 p.m. in the United church. The presentation to the May Queen will be made at that time.

In case of unfavorable weather, the celebration will be held in the arena.

Departmental exams throughout Alberta will commence on June 13th for high school students, and on June 18th for public school students. In all there will be about 19,000 students writing, being confined to high school and grade eight students, 18 students up to grade eight are dealt with by teachers on their record over the year.

Miss Sheila Marryat, radio secretary of the University of Alberta, Edmonton, paid a visit recently to the schools in the Crows' Nest Pass, and was accompanied by Mr. Moffatt, and one room of each of the five Pass schools in the interest of the co-operative music teaching system in vogue here. Miss Marryat expressed herself as pleased with the results obtained under the able tutelage of Mr. Moffatt.

Yours truly,
J. E. GILLIS,
Treasurer, Committee.

Official opening of Waterton Lakes park for the season takes place to-morrow.

One hundred green ash trees are being planted around the central school grounds. The work is under the able supervision of Mr. E. Williams, member of the board. Caragana, planted around the grounds last season, are thriving well, in fact nearly one hundred per cent. Ash trees are also being planted along the south side of Victoria street, the work being under direction of the mayor and council.

Members of Greenhill Temple of Pythian Sisters celebrated their twelfth birthday anniversary on Friday night last in the Lodge hall, when close on 150 guests were present. Following twelve hands of court whist, a sketch was staged by a number of the ladies and several musical numbers were rendered, followed by luncheon, more programme and dancing. The beautiful birthday cake was decorated with twelve candles. Quite a number were present from Coleman.

BELLEVUE LEGION, B.E.S.L. TAKE IMPORTANT STAND

For several years past The Enterprise has taken a firm stand against patronage of bus and truck firms in this district, for the main reason that neither the bus nor freight truck outlets support local taxation even in the smallest degree, and secondly that the C.P.R. are and have been our second largest supplier of towns and school districts in the Crows' Nest Pass.

Right now, in support of our stand, it is quite interesting to note that one organization at least has seen the wisdom of looking at matters our way, and that the Bellevue Legion of the B.E.S.L., at a special meeting held on May the 16th, passed a resolution in effect that:

"In view of the fact that practically all of our membership earn their living through the coal industry, and that ninety per cent of our coal is purchased by the Railroad Company, we, the Bellevue Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., No. 19, instruct its responsible officers to have all goods purchased outside the district brought in by the Railroad Company. Friends and business men of the district are invited to fall in line with this scheme."

Right in Bellevue today, as in all other towns in the Crows' Nest Pass, certain business concerns continue to support these bus and truck lines, and in so doing are not giving their customers a fair chance to deal with them or to meet their financial obligations.

The Enterprise has gone so far as on several occasions to refuse acceptance of express or freight arriving via motor truck from points outside the district, regardless of price competition, and also to prefer local delivery truck service to the bus service that does not directly financially support our towns or institutions.

JUST HELP YOURSELF!

There isn't any other place in this province that offers more attractions for Victoria Day than the Crows' Nest Pass. One can choose between sports at Cowley, Bellevue, Fernie or Michel; boxing at Blairmore; dances at Cowley, Bellevue, Coleman, Blairmore or Michel; airplane stunting and flying at Cowley or mountain climbing—this latter being absolutely free.

James Frith, aged 21, was killed near Natal on Sunday, when he fell from a freight car and went under the wheels. He was an employee of the Michel Collieries.

Coleman will stage a programme of school sports tomorrow (May 24). The programme is in charge of Jimmie Naylor, Pete Smith and Wilfrid Dutil. Programme starts at 10:30 a.m.

Dr. Antonio Rader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Italo Rader, of Vancouver (formerly of Lethbridge and Calgary), who graduated in dentistry this spring at the University of Alberta, will open a practise at Vancouver. Antonio's father is well known in this district, having for a time been manager of the Mariano macaroni factory in Lethbridge, with many customers in this district.

A meeting of the Blairmore Amateur Athletic Association was held at the Greenhill hotel last night, and was well attended. Many matters of importance were discussed and plans for the season promise much activity. It was definitely decided to stage a sports day on July the 1st, as in former years. Another meeting will be held at the Greenhill hotel on Wednesday next at 8 p.m., at which all interested in sports and the July 1st (Dominion Day) programme are requested to be present.

ALBERTA MOTOR ASSOCIA- TION ISSUES 100,000 NEW HIGHWAY MAPS

During this season, the touring bureaus operated at branches of the Alberta Motor Association in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge, are expecting heavy demands for service.

At these offices, where courtesy is one of the by-words, every consideration is given to the requests of motorists desiring information. Experts who have made a careful study of routes are able to pick out the most comfortable and convenient ones, so that motorists may travel one way and return by another, never once meeting the same ground again unless there is a desire to see some sections twice during the trip.

From time to time, the motor offices receive letters of commendation for their routing services.

Mileage, garages, hotels, all forming the official appointments of the A.M.A., are shown on these maps. For those seeking good hunting or fishing spots, the maps contain valuable information.

The maps are of particular value to visitors, of whom greatly increased numbers are expected to visit Alberta parks and other beauty spots during the coming season. In view of the campaign inaugurated by the Canadian Travel Bureau to attract a highway, directional maps will be of extreme assistance.

The official opening and dance at the Crownest Lake dance pavilion last night was very largely attended and most enjoyable. A number of Scotch folks attended and saved up enough second-hand confetti, streamers and balloons for their big dance to be staged on the night of Burns' anniversary.

WHERE'S IT COMING FROM?

The average passer-by cannot but appreciate the efforts being made with the announced intention of improving the appearance of Blairmore, but in the light of the taxpayer who has to pay the bill, the question is oftentimes asked: "Where is it coming from?"

Well, it is a known fact that hundreds, and probably thousands of dollars, are being squandered in Blairmore that never has been provided for in estimates.

Take, for instance, the establishing or building of a swimming pool, or a park, either of which can be claimed to benefit people of the town for some years to come. Why on earth should those paying rates today, who may not be here next year, be obliged to shoulder the whole burden of such expenditure? It should be capitalized.

Take the human question. For many years, when the mines at Blairmore were working full time or near to it, the local institution, privately owned, was fully capable of caring for patients admitted to it. Then why, at this stage of the game, when opportunity for employment is much less than fifty per cent of years ago, should people have to add to their taxation by purchasing and equipping something that is to all appearances being provided for unnecessary or unforeseen circumstances.

The town council only recently attempted to have the ratepayers pay them for their services, but failed; now the ratepayers should give similar consideration to the hospital question about to be submitted to them.

The Enterprise takes this firm stand in the best interests of those who own property and are ratepayers. We doubt if there is a concern in town, or company, that would have the pluck to take a similar stand, but it is time that the ratepayers in general should wake up.

DO WE NEED LEADERSHIP?

One of the cleverest sophistries foisted upon society today is charging everything to the lack of "leadership" and declaring that what the world needs is a "leader."

What the world needs is to be rid of "leaders."

The future of civilization depends upon fraternization—the recognition by each unit in society that each and every other human being has an equal right "to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," without inquiry as to the character of tools they use, and without the inhibitions of artificial county, state or national lines.

Wipe out the leadership that sets carpenter against accountant and Protestant against Catholic and Californian against Kansan and let the human sympathies freed of cultivated hatred dictate the activities of each.—Sacramento (Calif.) Union Labor Bulletin.

THE TEACHING PROFESSION ACT

"The teaching profession act, 1935," is now in effect and has been since the end of April. One is now able to view the situation in a little more accurate perspective than immediately following the debates in the Legislature when feeling was somewhat tame. The outstanding feature is official recognition by the State in the form of a Teaching Profession

Act has been accorded to the teachers of Alberta. It must be only a matter of time before amendments are made to the Act itself so as to provide that registration as a member of the professional association of teachers be a pre-requisite to practicing teaching—the only step now necessary to bring teaching into line with medicine, nursing, dentistry, law and the other professions.—A.T.A. Magazine.

THE PLIGHT OF ALBERTA

Mob hysteria, which for the moment favors social credit, was derived from Robertson church pulpit, Edmonton, in a recent sermon by the Rev. W. A. McLeod. Commenting on Aberhart's meeting, which had attracted seven thousand people to the local arena, Mr. McLeod, in a sermon on "The Plight of Alberta," said: "Great crowds, general ideas, incomplete analogies, are not an atmosphere in which to solve our technical problems. The majority is almost certain to be wrong in any matter of fine taste or sound judgment, and, whether or not the majority is right it certainly does not rule. Even in any democracy the minority rules. And because there is a real doubt as to the wisdom of the majority, we have a British North America Act and a judicial committee of the Privy Council."—New Outlook.

WHO IS RICH?

The income tax gives many a man a headache, while others chuckle and say, "Well, that's one thing I don't have to bother about," although in their hearts they probably wish they were so situated as to be compelled to make out a report. And all that makes us ask the age-old question, "Who is really rich?"

The little fir tree in the yard looks so green and healthy, even in winter, that we cannot help admiring it. Now, suppose somebody decorated it with pretty bauble of gayest colors, would that make it a richer tree? No. A tree is rich only when it is rich in that which is tree.

Somebody adored the old nag tied to the post over there with gorgeous trappings, but it is still a poor horse, though so richly caparisoned, for a horse is rich only when it is rich in that which is horse.

And a human being is never rich unless it is rich in that which is human. A man who is able to make his life a money parade is after all very poor until he gives the essentially human qualities within him a chance to flower and bear fruit. A woman bedecked with jewels may be much poorer than the one who radiates health of body and spirit, though plainly dressed. How impoverished some people look when they are adorned with riches.

True, a man may become a blessing through acquired, even amassed, wealth, but all his charities are as dry leaves unless he loves his fellow men, and nothing is more essentially human than love. Jesus was a poor man, but he enriched millions, for he was rich in soul, inevitably rich. Wainwright Star.

THE NORTH-WEST PASSAGE A REALITY

The Orient: what a name to conjure with! And in very truth a name signifying to our later civilization romance, adventure and experience, profitable and otherwise, all down the ages. The Orient is another name for Asia generally and, more specifically for southern and eastern Asia. It actually comes to have this meaning from the fact that Asia lies to the east of Europe.

Ability to market the rich products of the Orient, carried as far as possible by water because of economical transportation, has long been the dream of western merchants and those of North and South America. The opening of the Suez Canal brought this dream to partial fruition and it became an accomplished fact by the opening up later one of the long-sought-for north-west passages by sea and land via the Atlantic, North America and the Pacific.

Canada and North America generally is in an ideal position to trade with the Orient and thus market here and in Europe her rich products both of commerce and art, while Europe, with two strings to her bow—the Suez Canal passage and the Atlantic, North America and Pacific passage—is a stronger contender than ever for Orient markets. In this contention it is interesting to remember that the Suez Canal was opened in 1869. The lease had ninety-nine years to run and so, unless it is renewed, it will revert in thirty-three years' time to the Egyptian government. It has been an outstanding financial success and its original twenty pound shares (500 francs) could not now be purchased except at an enormous price. Great Britain, through Disraeli's foresight, owns seven-seventeenths of the entire capital. The heart of the Orient can be reached (all water route) via the Suez Canal from London in approximately four weeks and three days, while, via the northwest passage across Canada and using Canadian Pacific services throughout, London is now, under three weeks from Yokohama.

The object of the pioneer builders of the Canadian Pacific was first the cementing of the pact of Confederation by joining the Dominion of Canada together from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and secondly, the All Red or All Empire route between the Old Country and the Antipodes. All these objects have been realized and the Canadian Pacific liners on the Atlantic, headed by the flagship Empress of Britain, the Canadian Pacific rails through Canada and the Canadian Pacific liners on the Pacific on the Australian-New Zealand run, headed by the flagship Aorangi, have solved the difficulty and given to the Empire not only a north-west passage to the Orient but a north-west-south passage to the Antipodes—all Empire routes throughout. At first chartering ships for the Pacific-Orient run, the Canadian Pacific in 1891 built the Empresses of India, China and the old Japan, while on the Atlantic the company laid the nucleus of its future fleet by purchasing fourteen of the Elder-Dempster liners in 1902. Thus in slightly over two decades from the building of the Suez Canal, Canadians solved the north-west passage.

Canadian Pacific sailings across the Atlantic are available every few days from Southampton, Liverpool, Belfast and Glasgow to Quebec and Montreal (in summer) and Halifax, N.S., and Saint John, N.B., (in winter). As stated before, the flagship is the Empress of Britain, (42,500 tons)—fastest ship afloat in the empire now that the Mauretania is retired. Sailings on the Pacific to the Orient from Vancouver are every fortnight, the ships concerned being the Empress of Japan (26,000 tons), Empress of Canada (21,500 tons), Empress of Russia (16,800 tons), and Empress of Asia (16,900 tons); and here we can say that for forty-four years Canadian Pacific liners have always held the blue ribbon of the Pacific. Sailings to the Antipodes are every four weeks from Vancouver by the Aorangi (17,491 tons), and Nigeria (13,415 tons), of the Canadian-Australasia line. As a natural sequence of these services grew the famous Canadian Pacific round-the-world cruise, which is now taken by the Empress of Britain, and the numerous independent world cruises, which are becoming more and more popular and which can be completed in ninety days or up to two years in connection with Canadian Pacific services and other agreed lines, with a choice of over two hundred routes and one hundred and seventy-nine agencies throughout the world to help the traveller.—E. H. Banks.

"From now on the editor of this paper will be found bottling beer, day in and day out." The Innisfail Province last week stated: One of our subscribers called at the office to pay his subscription. In conversation, the question of Social Credit was brought up and this subscriber made what we believe to be the first attempt at doing business with a "non-negotiable" certificate. He offered to turn over to the Province, as and when he received it, his first dividend certificate in exchange for one year's subscription to the Province. We were not able to come to any terms.

FORMER DRUMHELLER MINER SAID BANISHED TO SIBERIA

In the fall of 1932 Walter Melinchuk, with five other coal miners, left Canada for Soviet Russia, where jobs in the coal mines of the Don Basin awaited them. Most of the men, who previously had worked in the Drumheller valley mines, were married and had expected to take their families with them. Homes were sold up, new clothes bought and the journey made as far as Winnipeg before they were notified that, for the time being, families would have to remain behind.

Melinchuk, but nevertheless attracted by offer of steady work, high pay and good working conditions, the men said goodbye to their wives and children in Winnipeg, crossed the seas and entered the Soviet Union. Soon letters were received complaining that the earthly paradise did not reach expectations, rumors were heard that application to Soviet authorities for transportation home had been refused. Melinchuk was one to do the most complaining. This week word was received that Melinchuk had been banished to Siberia, but while those who have followed the careers of the six men express the opinion that Soviet authorities might easily have had justification for disciplining Melinchuk. They state that George Hanyuk, one of the six, recently left voluntarily for the northern wastes, which once served as a gigantic prison camp, and since arriving there had written friends in Canada in glowing terms of conditions there. Hanyuk is believed to have got a job in one of the Siberian mines.

Of the others who went to the Soviet Union in 1932, George Hnatyshyn is listed as a member of the Soviet shock brigade, working on building construction in the Ukraine. Melinchuk was, until a few weeks ago, working with Hnatyshyn near Kiev. Hnatyshyn recently sent for his wife to join him and it is understood she is endeavoring to get passports at present. Wm. Hykay is working on the Moscow subway, apparently enjoys life in the Soviet Union, but unlike Hnatyshyn, advised his wife, who is still in Winnipeg, that life would be harder for her in Russia and suggested that she remain in Canada. Nick Wynyk still lives in the Ukraine, but has left the mines to work in a garage; while John Dragan continues to live in the Don Basin and now holds a government position as instructor of mining classes. Dragan, single when he left Canada, married a Russian girl.

While none of the six were members of the Communist party in Canada, all were compelled to apply for Russian citizenship before sailing and entered into contracts to remain five years in Russia. Melinchuk was viewed as the least desirable of the lot. His wife worked as chambermaid at the Whitehouse Hotel until she left, as she thought, for the Soviet Union, only to be halted in Winnipeg, where she has resided ever since. —New Review, Drumheller.

THE SIGN OF A FAIR DEAL

THE Three Star Imperial oval sign marks a place where you can buy with confidence; where you can be sure of good value and full measure.

It is the symbol of an organization that has steadily improved the quality and consistently reduced the price of petroleum and petroleum products — for gasoline prices since 1930 are lower than ever before.

The Three Star Imperial oval sign stands for a fair deal to all: to you, the consumer, and to the labor engaged in making and marketing Imperial products. The thousands of Imperial Oil workers are well treated. Five thousand of them are part owners of the Company. They are paid good wages. They have sickness and death benefits and old age pensions which mean that in affliction or old age they and their families do not become dependent on funds which must be raised by taxation.

Because they are fairly treated, Imperial Oil employees work loyally, enthusiastically and enterprisingly. That is why, through the years, it has been possible steadily to improve the quality and consistently to lower the price of Imperial gasoline and oils.
